ABOUT US

The 10th European Public Health Conference is organised by the EPH Conference Foundation, a non-governmental and not-for-profit organisation, established at the initiative of the European Public Health Association (EUPHA). Co-organisers of the conference are EUPHA and the Swedish Association of Social Medicine (SASM).

EPH CONFERENCE FOUNDATION

The mission of the EPH Conference Foundation is to contribute to promoting greater health and well-being for the population in Europe by strengthening the field of public health and reducing health inequalities through capacity building and knowledge building.

The EPH Conference Foundation organises scientific conferences on public health in Europe on an annual basis. The conferences bring together public health professionals, researchers, education and training specialists and policy makers from across Europe and beyond to develop new thinking and find meaningful solutions for future health challenges.

The EPH conferences are organised jointly with EUPHA and a national partner, usually a national public health association. In organising the conference, the EPH Conference Foundation works together in partnership with a wide array of international public health organisations.

EUPHA

EUPHA is an umbrella organisation for national (public) health associations in Europe. EUPHA is an international, multidisciplinary, scientific organisation, bringing together around 20,000 public health experts from all European countries. EUPHA unites 39 national associations of public health, 20 institutional members, 7 individuals, and one global member from 46 countries. EUPHA aims to be a leading scientific and independent voice in the field of public health and health services by building capacity and knowledge in the field of public health and health services and by supporting practice and policy decisions through scientific evidence. EUPHA is dedicated to working in partnership with European and international intergovernmental and non-governmental organisations as well as with national institutes and organisations that are aligned with EUPHA's values and commitment to improve current and future health in Europe. In 2017, EUPHA has set up partnerships with 11 international organisations. Established in 1992, EUPHA is celebrating its 25th anniversary at Stockholm 2017.

SWEDISH ASSOCIATION OF SOCIAL MEDICINE

The Swedish Association of Social Medicine (SASM) is a national, interdisciplinary association with about 150 members. It was established with the aim to promote the field of social medicine within education, research and practice. The association is both a section within the Swedish Society of Medicine (the scientific organization of the Swedish Medical profession), and a specialist association within the Swedish Medical Association (the doctors' professional organisation). The goal of SASM of today is to stimulate and promote education, practice and scientific development in Social Medicine. Key tasks include research, relevant policy development and advice on legal matters and participation in the public debate to influence public policies. The association also organizes meetings, seminars, and training courses regularly.

We also hold, together with the other associations of public health within the Nordic countries, the Scandinavian Journal of Public Health, which is an international, peer reviewed scientific journal.

Meet EUPHA, EPH Conference and SASM in the Exhibition Hall for more information.

WELCOME TO STOCKHOLM 2017

EVERYBODY WILL BE THERE

The European Public Health Conference Foundation, the European Public Health Association (EUPHA) and the Swedish Association of Social Medicine are honoured to welcome you to the 10th European Public Health Conference in Stockholm.

We are excited to present you this year again with a fully packed programme of inspiring and informative sessions.

We expect the attendance of over 1,800 public health researchers, policymakers and practitioners coming from more than 80 countries, making this conference the most important Public Health Conference in Europe and the biggest we have organised so far.

The theme for the conference is 'Sustaining resilient and healthy communities'. Resilience is the long-term capacity of a system to deal with change and continue to develop. For a society it involves an ability to deal with political uncertainty or natural disasters in a way that is sustainable in the long-term. Resilience is particularly relevant than in these times of dramatic climate change, long-lasting political conflicts and the global migration that follows these developments. Increased knowledge on how to strengthen resilience of societies and health systems to cope with the current challenges is therefore becoming increasingly important. Good health on equal terms for all is the ultimate goal of our efforts.

We have chosen five sub-themes for the conference. The first addresses how we can share our common wealth given the financial and political constraints on health systems. Established services need to reach out to all while at the same time new technology and medical progress puts pressure on health systems to deliver new methods for prevention and cure. There is a clear challenge in ensuring efficiency of the system while maintaining equity. The second sub-theme seeks to discuss if Europe is ready for the challenges that public health in a globalized world pose.

Communicable diseases are more global than ever spreading with the speed of airplanes across the world in no time. Political conflicts in other parts of the world spill over into Europe as large-scale attacks on civilians with dramatic effects on lives and health.

The third theme is captioned "Winds of change". It aims to encourage discussions and work on how to strike an effective and fair balance between public and private sector action and collective and individual responsibilities. The private sector is increasingly active in health promotion. Many new applications and products are being developed to support people in making healthy choices. At the same time, there is little quality control of such products. Health systems under pressure is the fourth sub-theme. Here we seek to discuss how health systems in Europe and elsewhere should develop to meet the mounting pressure from demographic changes due to aging and migration. These changes must be met both with a likely expansion of services and a new orientation in public health and health care towards integrating perspectives of cultures from around the world.

Finally, we want to focus on planetary boundaries and health and their interaction. Planetary boundaries define the limits to what the globe can sustain given the rapid development of human civilisation. Pollution of air and water and global warming are just a few of the threats to human health that we see coming towards us at high speed.

During Stockholm 2017, we will be celebrating 10 years of successful EPH Conferences as well as 25 years of EUPHA.

With the help of the co-organisers, our partners, exhibitors and supporters, we present you an exciting programme of workshops, oral and pitch presentations and poster walks. This is all offered in the wonderful setting of Stockholm giving you the possibility to share information, knowledge and innovative ideas with your colleagues from around the globe.

We look forward to meeting you in Stockholm for a few decisive days to discuss all this in our common efforts to promote health for all and prevent poor health - in Europe and elsewhere.

LUNCH SYMPOSIUMS

THURSDAY 2 NOVEMBER, 12:30-13:30

USING ONE HEALTH APPROACH TO COMBAT AMR

Room K11

Organised by LIF, trade association for the research-based pharmaceutical industry, Sweden

Antimicrobial resistance (AMR) is a major public health issue. AMR – being a global problem of complex epidemiology – is well suited to a broad, integrated One Health approach. The One Health concept typically considers three environments: human, animal, and physical. This lunch symposium will show how combatting AMR benefits from a One Health approach. Examples will be presented from the responsible use of antibiotics in both humans and animals, R&D into new antimicrobials, use of existing antimicrobials, new business models: the concept of 'de-linking', vaccines and immunization programmes, hygiene and sanitation, immune-system enhancing activities, communication and information dissemination

GENDER DIFFERENCES IN CORONARY ARTERY DISEASE IN EUROPE – PRESENTATION OF FACTSHEETS

Room K16

Organised by GenCAD consortium

The GenCAD consortium has produced factsheets for health professionals and the general public on gender differences in coronary heart disease and its prevention.

The results of this project, commissioned by the European Parliament and European Commission shall improve the prevention and treatment of coronary heart disease in women and men throughout Europe.

With: Vera Regitz-Zagrosek, Institute of Gender in Medicine, Charite University, Berlin

FRIDAY 3 NOVEMBER, 12:15 – 13:15

SOCIAL IMPACT BONDS: DRIVING INNOVATION IN HEALTHCARE AND SOCIAL SERVICES?

Room K11

Organised by Health Navigator, Sweden

Healthcare costs are spiralling throughout the industrialised world. To halt the process, it has been proposed to shift from expensive hospital care to early interventions and preventive care and to move from payment for activities to payment for measurably improved health. Can Social Impact Bonds (SIBs) – that combine evidence based early intervention/prevention with outcome based contracts backed by private or other capital – be a way forward? Health Navigator facilitated the first SIB in Sweden in 2016. Mutual benefits for investors and public health actors demonstrate that this type of financing is becoming increasingly popular. With Joachim Werr, Health Navigator and Johan Fredriksson, deputy CEO Frösunda Omsorg

A FRESH TAKE ON POLICY FOR PHARMACEUTICAL RESEARCH: ENSURING ACCESS TO MEDICAL INNOVATION AND TACKLING MEDICAL GAPS

Room K16

Organised by the Federal Ministry of Health and Women's Affairs, Austria

In 2016, the EU's Council of Ministers voiced its concern over 'an increasing number of examples of market failures (...), where patients' access to effective and affordable essential medicines is endangered by very high price levels...!The Austrian presidency of the EU-Council in 2018 will address the difficulties that public health authorities encounter when trying to ensure patients' access to innovative and high-quality therapies, while at the same time ensure research in areas with therapeutic needs and safeguarding the financial viability and sustainability of the health care system. The symposium is targeted at policy makers and experts interested in pharmaceutical and research policies. The session should give a first insight into the preparations for the upcoming Austrian Presidency of the EU-Council.

With: Clemens-Martin Auer, Austrian Federal Ministry of Health and Women's Affairs; Suerie Moon, The Graduate Institute, Geneva/ Harvard T. H. Chan School of Public Health (tbc). Moderator: Josep Figueras, European Observatory on Health Systems and Policies

GREENING THE CONFERENCE

EPH Conference is committed to reducing the environmental impact of the conference and finding ways to be more environmentally responsible.

EUPHA has set up a Green Club to further encourage greening the conference.

Here are some initiatives we have taken to help minimize the impact of the conference on the environment.

- No beef. Lunches and Conference Dinner do no longer serve beef meat. We encourage the choice for vegetarian lunch and dinner options.
- Reduced printing. Printing of Posters, Announcements, Invitation Letters and marketing materials is reduced by switching to E-Posters, digital marketing and email communication. We are very pleased that 70% of the delegates will no longer use a hard copy of the Programme Book.
- Paperless communication. Abstract submission, registration and invoicing are fully web-based. The Conference Programme and Abstracts can be accessed online.
- Recycled materials. The Conference Bag is made of recycled materials. The Programme Book is printed on FSC Mix paper. FSC Mix means at least 70% of the wood in the product is from FSC-certified material or recycled material; and 30% is controlled wood. from responsible sources.

We encourage our delegates to reduce the effect of their air travel on the climate. You can help by flying CO2 neutral with the CO2ZERO compensation service of your air travel company.

Our conference suppliers do everything they can to limit the environmental impact of their products and services.

All restaurants at Stockholmsmässan are licensed to use the Nordic Ecolabel. The catering company Mässrestauranger AB is certified with the environmental friendly certification called KRAV. A KRAV-certification proves that a product is produced with an organic standard, with additional standards for animal care, health, social responsibility and climate impact.

Stockholmsmässan is also committed to play their part in positive community development. They are currently supporting Ung Företagsamhet (Young Enterprise), Stockholm Winter Games and the Natur & Miljöparmen educational scheme.

The Munchen Bryggeriet, location of the Conference Dinner and dance, has been ecolabelled for many years. They strive to reduce the negative environmental impact of their events by encouraging practices that minimize the environmental impact. Their goal is to become one of Stockholm's most sustainable event facility.

The location of the Welcome Reception, Stockholm's famous City hall is owned by the Municipality of Stockholm whose goal it is to make Stockholm fossil free by 2040. This means that no heating or electricity and no transportation is done with fossil fuels such as oil or coal.
